NOMINATIONS OF INDEPENDENTS

Oahu Convention Chooses One Haole Senator and Two Representatives.

At the Oahu convention of the Independent Home Rule party in the drill shed yesterday, candidates were nominated to represent this island in both houses of the Legislature.

Bob Wilcox was not nominated. Bob says that he was nominated last June when self-appointed delegates from all the islands met here, and that he couldn't very well be nominated twice. Bob ruled the roost yesterday. Quietly and with a true the total number of delegates was 113. Again Palau, who was a very active delegate, moved that temporary officers be elected. It. N. Boyd also made a motion, but both motions were overruled.

D. Kalaokalani announced that the officers of the last convention were the officers of the day. It was then understood by the delegation that D. Kalaokalani was their chairman. At this juncture Mahoe's request that the chair be addressed Mr. President prevailed, and at no time afterwards was the honor conferred on the chairman violated. The chairman himself failed to respond unless he was addressed as Mr. President.

After a lengthy discussion by the members of the delegation the president opened the nominations for Senators. The following names were placed in nomination: James K. Kaula, George Markham, D. Kalaokalani, D. Kanuha, J. O. Carter, J. W. Pipikane, William Auld, S. K. Pua, R. N. Boyd, E. C. Macfarlane, John Kanui, J. P. Makai, Frank Harvey and J. Emmelhuth.

REFUSED THE PLEDGE.
When the nominations were closed D. Kanuha said that J. O. Carter had told him that he would not run on the Independent ticket because he did not think it wise to support a section of a pledge presented to him. The pledge read as follows:
"To Whom It May Concern:
"We do hereby pledge ourselves to support the Independent Home Rule

WAIALEALE IN TROUBLE

Ex-Deputy Sheriff of Koloa. EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED

Fusion Candidate on Kauai Accused of Misappropriating Funds.

Robert Waialeale, ex-Deputy Sheriff for Koloa, Island of Kauai, is charged by the Government with embezzlement of public funds collected by him during his incumbency of that office.

news of the officer's alleged misconduct and misappropriation of public moneys was brought up in the Governor's council.

At the present time Robert Waialeale is a candidate on the fusion legislative ticket for the Sixth Representative district composed of Kauai and Niihau. In the last few days his friends have strongly advised him to have his name dropped from the ticket in view of the serious charges made against him by the Territorial government.

Attorney General Dole was seen last evening at the Hawaiian Hotel by an Advertiser representative to ascertain the facts leading up to the issuance of the warrant for the ex-Deputy Sheriff's arrest.

"Is it true that Robert Waialeale is charged with misappropriation of public funds?" queried the reporter.

"Yes," replied Mr. Dole. "The beginning of the officer's predicament came about when the September term of court was held at Koloa. He came into the courtroom during the session intoxicated. He was told to leave the courtroom and his conduct was at once reported to High Sheriff Brown. Mr. Brown at once put Robert Waialeale out of office.

"Another man was sent over there I think and then it was discovered that Waialeale had been issuing licenses to storekeepers and other persons entitled to them and had not turned over the money to the Government. The amount involved I believe sums up in the neighborhood of $214.

"On Monday morning last Robert Waialeale came to my office and said he had come to Honolulu for the purpose of 'squaring up' the matter. I told him that if he wanted to pay the money into the Treasury we would be glad to have him do so, but that his doing so would be no safeguard against the Government prosecuting him.

"He admitted his offense and begged that he be not prosecuted.

"I brought the matter up in the Governor's council that same morning and it was discussed at length. I finally decided that he should be prosecuted and gave orders to High Sheriff Brown to that effect.

No one has yet been appointed to fill the position made vacant by the discharge of Robert Waialeale as Deputy Sheriff. It is learned that soon after Waialeale's removal certain storekeepers were requested to renew their yearly licenses which had run out. One of them produced a license for the ensuing year made out by Waialeale but no record of it had been entered. The storekeeper had paid in his license fee, but the money had not been turned over to the proper Territorial officer. The matter was brought to the attention of Mr. Rice who in turn reported it to High Sheriff Brown.

An investigation of Waialeale's books followed which were checked up in the High Sheriff's office. There the shortage was discovered. Waialeale is still in the City as far as the Police department has any knowledge.

The accused ex-officer of the Attorney General's department performed the duties of Deputy Sheriff at Koloa for nearly three years. Prior to that time he had lived in Honolulu and was at one time a clerk in the Police department offices during the reign of Kalakaua.

It is quite possible that Robert Waialeale's name will be dropped from the list of candidates on the Kauai Representative ticket and another substituted. He does not represent any one party having been placed on the ticket by the citizens' party movement.

THE PRINCE AND THE MULLIGATAWNEY.

DAVID—"Yea, I am in it deep and there is no way out."

Garibaldian smile he watched the bickerings of his henchmen and turned them around on his fingers.

The convention was strictly haole-hating. Some were for allowing no whites on the ticket but discretion prevailed and two whites were put on the Representative ticket and one on the Senatorial ticket.

After the convention a mass meeting was called for seven o'clock and the drill shed was packed to the doors. Wilcox, James Quinn and others made hot speeches. The following were the Senatorial nominations: JAS. K. KAULIA, D. KANUHA, J. O. CARTER, S. K. PUA, R. N. BOYD and D. KALAOKALANI.

In the Fifth District the following were the nominations for Representatives: J. P. MAKAINAH, WILLIAM MOSSMAN, GEORGE MARKHAM, J. K. PRENDERGAST, S. K. MAHOE and J. K. PAELE.

The Fourth District put up the following names: J. K. CLARK, J. K. NAKOOKOO, D. KALAOKALANI, Jr., E. C. MACFARLANE, M. H. KAILIMAI and J. C. QUINN.

THE CONVENTION of the Independent Home Rule party was delayed somewhat yesterday. The meeting was scheduled for 10 o'clock a. m. at the Drill Shed, but it was not until 10:30 o'clock that the crowd commenced piling into the spacious hall. On the platform were Robert Wilcox, D. Kalaokalani and J. K. Kaulia, the three leaders of the party, and Mr. Kalehuia and D. Kupihua, their secretaries. At the right hand of the platform was placed a map of Honolulu and vicinity, with the election districts represented in blue figures, and the precincts in red figures. On the right hand side of the hall sat the delegates to the convention.

CALLED TO ORDER.
At 10:40 o'clock a. m. Mr. D. Kalaokalani, president, called the meeting to order. He said, "Gentlemen, delegates and friends who have gathered together in this hall, we will now open the meeting with a prayer by Rev. Oia."

Immediately after the devotional ceremony Mr. S. H. Meekapu jumped to his feet and moved that the delegates be separated from the visitors. The motion found a second, after which D. Kalaokalani announced that the delegates would take their seats on the right side of the hall, and the visitors on the other. Just as soon as the delegates were separated from the visitors, Mahoe moved that a committee on credentials be appointed. Nochu thought that that was not the first business, and therefore did not comply with his brother delegate's request.

The motion was not carried, and the chairman then placed the nomination for a secretary in order. W. K. Kaulia was elected as secretary unanimously.

CREDENTIALS EXAMINED.
The committee on credentials was the next business in order. It was moved by one that the chairman from each precinct be on the committee, and by another that each delegate present his own commission as a delegate to the secretary. Finally a better method was taken, when D. Kanuha moved that a committee of five be elected on credentials. Mr. Meekapu, who was not slothful, at the same time moved that the chair appoint the five members. This met the approval of the whole delegation, and the following delegates were elected on the committee of credentials: D. Kanuha, Kailimai, Mahoe, Meekapu and Nehemia.

A recess was then taken that the committee on credentials might prepare their report. After a recess of ten minutes Mr. D. Kanuha, chairman on the committee, reported 34 delegates present. Mr. Kalehuia then moved that the report of the committee on credentials be adopted. This motion found a second, and the report was adopted by the house. Mr. Kalehuia scored with another motion that the delegates on the committee of credentials be discharged from the office. Carried.

Mr. Moses L. Kaulia moved that the chairman state the rules of the house. While this motion was waiting for a second Mr. Mahoe said that the chair ought to be addressed as "Mr. President," and not "Mr. Chairman." At this time Mr. Kalehuia moved that a temporary chairman be appointed. The motion was seconded by Mr. Palau.

NUMBER OF DELEGATES.
Mahoe took the floor again and argued that the time was past for the election of a temporary chairman. He said that that matter should have been considered at the beginning of the meeting. In order to shorten matters D. Kanuha proposed the president of the meeting be appointed as chairman. The motion that a temporary chairman be appointed was finally lost, and Palau's motion that the names of the various delegates be read, prevailed.

EXTINCT VOLCANO'S EDITOR'S EXPERIENCES IN OAHU JAIL

WILLIAM H. MARSHALL, ex-editor of the extinct Volcano, who was taken to the Reef on Tuesday last to serve a six months' sentence at hard labor for criminal libel, donned a variegated suit yesterday and broke rocks with a gang of prisoners, among whom he was the only white man.

At 4:30 a. m. he was awakened and shortly afterwards partook of a breakfast consisting of hard bread, coffee and salmon. After breakfast he and his fellow convicts were lined up and marched to the scenes of their various assignments of labor. Marshall went to the stone quarries at Makiki and for eight hours under a broiling sun reduced recalcitrant rock to fragments with a sledge hammer. His companions were housebreakers, highwaymen and all-around ruffians, from whom the knowledge of good and evil had departed in the long-drawn years.

At 8 o'clock a halt was called in the labors of the convict gang and a bite of hard bread and a sup of tea were partaken of. Then it was hard soul-stultifying toil till the factory whistles of the distant town signalled the noon hour. Dinner came then: a meal of beef stew, rice and vegetables.

At 1 o'clock work was resumed and continued until 3:30 p. m., when the prisoners were marched back to the confines of Oahu jail. People on the road stopped to stare at Marshall, and even those who in Volcano days had written under the editorial lash, were loud in their expressions of sympathy for the unfortunate journalist.

Arrived at the jail, Marshall bathed and was given a change of clothes, and at half-past four o'clock supper was eaten. It consisted of pork and beans, rice and tea. At bed-time he was locked up for the night. Marshall's cell measures five feet by seven, and is totally unfurnished. There is no mattress or bed, a hammock being used for sleeping. Mosquito bars guard the entrance to the cell, which, though small, is scrupulously clean.

In this place Marshall has spent the last two nights, accompanied by his thoughts and his conscience. Through the infinitesimal perforations of the mosquito bar the full moon sent silver rays of comfort. From the distance came the war of the snaf and from the upper space the voice of the fighting plover. Else all was still.

The charge is made by High Sheriff Brown and a warrant for his arrest was issued yesterday afternoon. This was done at the suggestion of Attorney General Dole who has had the matter in hand since Monday when the first

WILLIAM H. MARSHALL.

Through the courtesy of Jailer Henry an Advertiser reporter was allowed admittance to the incarcerated journalist, who appeared to be in excellent spirits and well satisfied with his treatment at the hands of the prison authorities. He said:

"I hope to be out of this in a day or so. My attorney, Mr. De Bolt, is hopeful to a degree that the same decision which has placed me behind the bars will be instrumental in securing my release and also substantial compensation for the indignities that I have been compelled to undergo.

"Since the inception of the Sunday Volcano I have strenuously contended for American principles, and it is a pleasure for me to realize that I am temporarily suffering for a cause in the interests of which I should be only too glad to make sacrifices compared with which my present misfortunes would appear trivial. The spirit of Americanism, for which I have so long contended, is slowly but surely permeating Hawaii and Hawaiian politics, and it will continue to do so until the Stars and Stripes shall float from the Capitol unshamed and until a man, in whom true Americanism finds a militant exemplification shall be allowed to traverse the streets of the city he calls his home, clad in other than a felon's garb.

"The decision in the Edwards' case will go schooling over hill and dale from the Rockies to the White mountains. Fathers will tell their children that the Constitution follows the Flag. The decision in my case will not be neglected on the Mainland. In a short while will be heard in these islands a great voice asking, 'What manner of lawgivers exist in the Territory of Hawaii, that they render a decision in a matter and then reverse it in another case of an exactly similar nature?'

"That same voice will also ask why decisions in the Supreme Court of Hawaii are arrived at to suit the views and prejudices of persons interested in the case. It will enquire diligently into the composition of the bench of Judges rendering a decision. When it dies away its place will be filled by a mighty roar, created by the edict uttered by a million throats: 'Out on them!'

"The decision of the Supreme Court in my case is a mammoth farce. Compared with the transactions of that Court under the Monarchy, its antics today are as the jokes inflicted at the local playhouse, to the rich humor of a production by Hoyt. At it would appear, judging by recent proceedings of that august body, that its decisions are not intended to establish a point of law but are merely rendered to suit the caprice and prejudices of the eminent Jurists responsible for the same.

"While such decisions are being rendered justice is impossible. Happily, I am in a position to take my case into the National courts, which I shall not neglect to do even if I have to take it to the highest court in the land."
